

Suggested focus questions for this activity

Task 1

What is grazing?

- What does the word 'grazing' mean? Why do you think that?
- What animals might graze? How do you know?
- Where might animals graze? Why do you think that?
- When might animals graze? Why do you think that?
- Who looks after grazing animals? How do you know?

Task 2

What grazing animals do we know about?

- What animal is this? What makes you think that?
- When have you seen this animal? What was it doing? Why do you think it was doing that?
- Where have you seen this animal? Why do you think it was there?

Task 3

How many grazing animals are there?

- What animals did you see in the photograph? How do you know?
- How many of this animal could you see? How did you work that out?
- Was there an even or odd number? Why do you think that?

Look at the photograph again and count the animals.

- How many were there?
- How close was your guess?

Task 4

How many animals are there in school?

- How many people can you see? Why do you think that? How did you work that out?
 - What are they doing? How do you know?
 - Are there more than 10 people? How do you know?
 - Is there an even or odd number? Why do you think that?
- Look at the people again and count them.
- How many were there?
 - How close was your guess?

Task 5

How do animals change the land they live on?

- What does the land in the photograph look like?
- How many animals are there?
- How will the land change when these animals walk and graze on it? Why do you think that?
- Are these changes a good or bad thing? Why do you think that?

